DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 2, line 6-7, should read, "when said user sends subsequent requests for the URL of the said content server, even if said content server does not belong in the said proxy server's domain" not "when said user sends other requests for a same URL even if said content server does not belong to a same domain as said".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. The claim element that does not include the phrase "means for" or "step for" will not be considered to invoke 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. If applicant wishes to have the claim limitation treated under 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph, applicant must either amend the claim to include the phrase "means for" or "step for," or show that even though the phrase "means for" or "step for" is not used, the claim limitation is written as a function to be performed and does not recite sufficient structure, material, or acts which would preclude application of 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. [See MPEP 2181]

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1, 3 & 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brown et al. (US Patent NO. 6970918B2 here after "Brown et al.).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

5. Regarding Claim 1 Brown et al. disclose, Method of accessing Internet resources provided by at least a content server (col. 3, line 51 & Fig 2a, 16) in a data transmission system including a proxy (col. 3, line 55 & Fig 2a, 11) connected to an Internet network (col. 3, line 50 & Fig 2a, 14), said proxy being provided with authentication means (col. 4, line 23 & Fig 3, 20) for authenticating a user when receiving a request for Internet resources (col. 4, line 18) therefrom, and wherein said proxy transmits the user request to said content server (col. 4, lines 3-8 & 29-30) which sends back a response to the proxy together with at least one cookie containing information about said user (col. 4, lines 30-32); said proxy receiving and storing said response in a user context database (col. 4, lines 32-33 & Fig 3, User Database 22) and transmitting said response to said user (col. 6, line 37) after said cookie has been removed from said response (col. 6, lines 29-31), so that said user can send all subsequent requests for accessing said Internet resources contained in said content server to said proxy (col. 7, lines 36-41).

6. Regarding Claim 3, Brown et al. disclose, the Method according to claim 1, wherein said cookie which has been stored in said user context database is added to all subsequent requests from said user for accessing Internet resources in said content server (col. 5, lines 17-27).

Art Unit: 2109

7. Regarding Claim 4 Brown et al. disclose, Method according to claim 3, wherein the response from said content server to said proxy includes a statement "set-cookies," said statement being removed from said response (col. 6, lines 29-31) before transmitting said response to said user (col. 6, line 37).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

8. Claims 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Brown et al. as applied to claims 1 above, and in view of Admitted Prior Art.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). This rejection might also be overcome by showing that the reference is disqualified under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) as prior art in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). See MPEP § 706.02(I)(1) and § 706.02(I)(2).

9. Regarding Claim 2, Brown et al. disclose the Method according to claim 1, wherein said proxy is configured as a proxy establishing a connection to said content server on behalf of said user when receiving said request from said user, and wherein said cookie is transmitted by said proxy to said content server when said user sends other requests for a same URL even if said content server does not belong to a same domain as said reverse proxy.

Art Unit: 2109

10. Brown et al. do not disclose, reverse proxy.

11. In the same field of endeavor, Admitted Prior Art teach, (page 2, 2nd paragraph, lines 14-25, A proxy can be configured as "reverse proxy" in order to add more security and to protect in an efficient way the back-end Web services. In such a case, the proxy appears to the client to be the destination content server. To the content server, the reverse proxy server acts as the originator of client requests. If a client wants to access a file, for example main.html, he/she points its browser to the reverse proxy, www.DomainA.com believing this is the Internet address of the content server. The reverse proxy server will accept the client request for main.html, retrieves the requested page from the content server residing on w3.DomainB.com, and returns it to the client).

12. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify Brown et al. by including the reverse proxy of the Admitted Prior Art, to add more security and to protect the back-end Web services in an efficient way. Additional security along with back-end Web services protection would make it more difficult for hackers to gain unauthorized access to sensitive user information as well as unauthorized access to Web services.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Shi et al. (US Patent No. 5875296A) teach Distributed file system web server user authentication with cookies, Fulton et al. (US PG Pub No. 20020010865A1) teach Method and apparatus for remote office access management.
